

March 2014 President's Letter

It was a dark and stormy day. That's a good start for a novel, but not so good for a Cowboy Action shoot. But, that was the condition of the weather for most of Saturday and some of Sunday. It really didn't rain hard, but was more just a mist with a few more drops now and then. Just enough to be bothersome, and require gun cart covers or umbrellas. I forgot to mention that it was cold too. A couple shooters did not make it thru the whole match, and spent a lot of time around the campfire. And that campfire was sure appreciated. The turnout was good, and most people had a good time.

Not much else to report except that we are rapidly approaching Jail Break. A lot of things are still to be done, but everything is on track. A few of the workers will shoot the match the weekend before so that they can devote full time to being able to make sure that everyone else has a great time during the shoot. These shooters deserve your thanks since they would MUCH rather shoot with everyone else during the regular match. They are sacrificing fun for work. Appreciate them.

Be sure to thank all the people who are making this match great so that everyone else can have a wonderful time. You will know them by their efforts.

Remember, we are playing by SASS rules and they will be rigidly enforced. Things you may be able to get away with at a monthly match could get you a DQ at a larger match like this. Safety is always the first concern, so watch your muzzle direction and follow all safety rules. Costuming will also be rigidly enforced. Read the rules and see that you are properly attired. Vendors will be on site so that you can be a little more spiffy if you so desire. Support the vendors as much as you can. Many of them have come a long way and they need to pay expenses as well as make a little money. They are here for your convenience.

My uncle, a lifelong Republican, voted a straight party ticket until he died in 1998, now he votes straight Democrat.
