

President's Letter

October 25, 2014

Beautiful is how to describe the weather around here lately. It should be the same for the November shoot too. God sure does now how to make nice days. We had a few rain days since the last match, so the grass and trees are looking good. I don't know how much longer the leaves will last though. It seems that they all drop off at the same time. Hopefully, they will wait a couple more weeks to fall.

Sorrowfully, I don't have much more to report on how to make your bullets hit the target better and more often. I haven't been able to find anyone that will make a two ended bullet mould for me yet. I'll keep trying. Boy they all seem to really want to keep this bullet thing a secret. I must really be on to something. This same confidential source that keeps advising me about bullets is now offering suggestions for setting targets. He says to keep track of how, and what direction the bullets miss the targets and then change the target placement to compensate for the errant bullets. In other words, if the bullets are going above the target, place the target higher. If they are going to the right or left of the target, move the target so that it will intercept the errant bullets. Makes sense to me, but I don't know how Gunslinger will feel about me moving all of his targets. Stay tuned for more on that.

On a separate sheet is the history of the flag that was presented to us and will be flown for our Veterans shoot at the end of November. This is a copy of the information that was submitted along with the flag. It is kind of a reverent thing isn't it. It almost makes a person wish he had been their with the flag. I figure that if the flag survived, I could have to. It would be nice if all of the veterans attending the shoot would be able to indicate the branch of service they served in and also the time frame of their service. That would really be interesting.

For 30 some odd years I taught skill training to many people. For some persons, they must experience how to do a task wrong before learning how to do it right. Others can learn how to do something correctly merely by being told how to do it. Which one are you?
