Aloha from the Oakwood Outlaws. The range sure is looking great! Burr Bunn has been busy and it really shows. All the stages got pressure washed and cleaned up and several buildings and stages got a fresh coat of paint. The tables all got leveled and painted and even the flag poles got spruced up. We also resurrected the tradition of shooting off the canon to kick things off.

Since this was our Hawaiian shoot, the range and even the targets were dressed up tropical/Hawaiian style. BlueBonnet Belle put together a selection of tropical music for this month and even had Kona coffee to offer those who wanted coffee despite the heat. Most of the shooters got into the spirit with Hawaiian shirts and tropical dress and everyone got lei'd at sign in.

It was an awesome shoot with three clean matches on Saturday and three more on Sunday despite the low turn out. On Saturday, the stages were simple and quick. On Sunday, they were a bit more creative, but nothing too crazy. Monday we had cowboy, doughboy and wild bunch represented. All three days Justa Hand provided root beer or dreamsicle floats after the shoot.

We hope to see you in September. Our relaxed dress code for summer is still in place, and if you are so inclined break out your Mexican attire and join us for our vaquero shoot. Maybe the hot weather will start to break and who knows what Justa Hand and Texas Alline may come up with in the kitchen!

We'll keep the easy, quick stages on Saturday with a bit more creativity on Sunday. Monday you can shoot cowboy or wild bunch. You can also shoot doughboy or other variants of wild bunch. Blackfoot Drifter runs the show on Monday, and he is pretty flexible. If you would like to try wild bunch, but don't have a shotgun or rifle that qualifies, we will work with you. I shot wild bunch cowboy with a coach gun for a while until I got my model '97. So, come join the Oakwood Outlaws, literally!

Adiós, hasta luego! Forest Shadow 🌵
